Use of Cookies

The Atlas Credit website may use "cookies" to help you personalize your online experience. A cookie is a text file that is placed on your hard disk by a web page server. Cookies cannot be used to run programs or deliver viruses to your computer. Cookies are uniquely assigned to you, and can only be read by a web server in the domain that issued the cookie to you.

One of the primary purposes of cookies is to provide a convenience feature to save you time. The purpose of a cookie is to tell the Web server that you have returned to a specific page. For example, if you personalize Atlas Credit pages, or register with Atlas Credit site or services, a cookie helps Atlas Credit to recall your specific information on subsequent visits. This simplifies the process of recording your personal information, such as billing addresses, shipping addresses, and so on. When you return to the same Atlas Credit website, the information you previously provided can be retrieved, so you can easily use the Atlas Credit features that you customized.

You have the ability to accept or decline cookies. Most web browsers automatically accept cookies, but you can usually modify your browser setting to decline cookies if you prefer. If you choose to decline cookies, you may not be able to fully experience the interactive features of the Atlas Credit services or websites you visit.

Security of your Personal Information

To secure your personal information from unauthorized access, use or disclosure, Atlas Credit uses Comodo CA Ltd. When personal information is transmitted, it is protected through the use of encryption, such as the Secure Sockets Layer (SSL) protocol.

Children Under Thirteen

Atlas Credit does not knowingly collect personally identifiable information from children under the age of thirteen. If you are under the age of thirteen, you should not be utilizing our site since you are not of legal age to enter into a promissory note or become an employee of Atlas Credit in any capacity.
